You can find new documents from the sessions in PDN as shown below –

Pacific Platform opens with call for change

ISDR News, 17 September 2012. The 4th Session of the Pacific Platform for Disaster Risk Management opened today with a strong call for Pacific Island Countries and Territories, and donors to address the challenges of climate change in a smarter way. The theme for this year's Pacific Platform is "Disaster Risk Management, Water Security and Climate Change - Integrating our efforts for a more resilient Pacific." One anticipated outcome is a new regional action plan for water and sanitation in the Pacific. A road map to integrated disaster risk reduction and climate change adaptation beyond 2015 is also foreseen. In welcoming delegates to Noumea, New Caledonia's government representative, Jean-Claude Briault said, that this is the first time that this important meeting is taking place in a French territory

Analysis of Disaster Response Training in the Pacific Island Region

The aim of this analysis is to provide guidance and recommendations for future training and capacity development initiatives and strategies by Pacific Island Countries (PICs), humanitarian and development organizations and donor partners in disaster management. This analysis examines the existing disaster management training regime and the humanitarian / disaster management system in the Pacific Island region with a view to evaluating the system's ability to undertake an effective, timely and comprehensive humanitarian response. By identifying perceived gaps in disaster response, this report identifies specific areas for attention in disaster management training in PICs and provides recommendations to strengthen overall disaster management

Session 10 : Pacific regional indicators on water and sanitation

The key challenges identified as part of the establishment of a regional indicator framework for water management in the Pacific were the lack of resources available for monitoring and evaluation, which means that national monitoring programs must be focused on serving national information needs, very different national foci, for example resilience in Tuvalu and many atoll islands is focused on drought management, whereas Fiji's major focus is typically flood management during Session 10 of the Pacific Platform for Disaster Risk management and Pacific Regional Water and sanitation Consultations : 17 – 21 September, Noumea, New Caledonia

Seance 10 : Indicateurs regionaux oceaniens du secteur de l'eau et de l'assainissement

Les principaux enjeux identifies dans le cadre de la mise en place d'un cadre regional d'indicateurs pour la gestion de l'eau dans le Pacifique sont le manque de ressources disponibles pour la surveillance et l'evaluation, ce qui signifie que les programmes nationaux de surveillance doivent etre axes sur le service national d'information doit, tres differents foyers national , par exemple la resistance a Tuvalu et de nombreux atolls est axe sur la gestion de la secheresse, alors axe majeur de Fidji est generalement la gestion des inondations lors de la Session 10 de la plate-forme Pacifique pour la gestion des risques de catastrophe et de l'eau regional du Pacifique et des consultations d'assainissement: 17 - 21 septembre Noumea, Nouvelle-Calédonie.
